Plainfield Gives Back

Feed the Children program

Plainfield, NJ November 20th, 2008:

On Monday November 24th, 2007 Mayor Sharon Robinson-Briggs, representatives of the City of Plainfield, Pastor Tracey L. Brown and Ruth Fellowship Ministries, will collaborate to host a community event to benefit needy families within Plainfield.

This event will be sponsored by Investors Savings Bank and will be held from 2:30 PM to 7:30 PM at 733 South Second Street in Plainfield, NJ.

Last year the effort was able to provide over fifty pounds of dry and canned foods, paper products and personal hygiene items. In the spirit of the season Mayor Robinson-Briggs had asked for Thanksgiving Day food items to be included amongst donated items... turkeys, yams, cranberry sauce and various other items. Hundreds turned out to either help or receive help, and sponsors are hoping to see a similar or larger outpouring of help this year.

Mayor Robinson-Briggs said...“Although many are experiencing hardship, there is still much to be thankful for, and it is always a double pleasure to be able to share and work side by side with our friends and neighbors. I have a firm belief that a strong community is the one that stands together during the good times as well the rough times, and Plainfield has demonstrated time and again that it knows how to do that.”
